THE THINK HER PROJECT

WOMEN.. In The Shadow of Climate CHANGE

There are those who believe that women are the most important people in the world because of their imagined social, economic and political status in the world.

550 Million Hours Of Housework. Gender Gap

Globally, girls aged 15 and over spend 550 million hours every day on household chores. 160 million more hours than boys of the same age.

WOMEN Spend 40 Billion HOURS Collecting Water

Collecting water is usually part of household chores. They pay between one and two dollars to travel to small pumps to collect more water than what they need to drink. This is a huge burden for women and girls who are responsible for the water needs of their families.

Worldwide, women and girls spend an estimated 40 billion hours a year collecting water for their families. This is a huge burden for women and girls who are responsible for the water needs of their families.

Girls' Education

Motherhood in Childhood

As the world's population grows, it is important to ensure that all children have access to quality education. This is especially true for girls, who are often the most vulnerable to poverty and lack of access to education. In many countries, girls are forced to leave school to help support their families or to get married at a young age. This is a huge burden for girls who are responsible for the water needs of their families.

"YOU EDUCATE A MAN- YOU EDUCATE A MAN. YOU EDUCATE A WOMAN YOU EDUCATE A GENERATION"

-BINGHAM YOUNG

WOMEN's Economic Empowerment

Women's economic empowerment is the process of increasing women's income and assets. This is a huge burden for women and girls who are responsible for the water needs of their families.

"The UN decided the best way to contribute to the world is to invest in women"
